Dear Event Attendees:

Welcome to Minneapolis for the 2016 Lutheran Services in America (LSA) Annual Conference.

For more than 150 years, Lutheran Services in America has been providing crucial services to people in Minnesota and throughout the country. Its annual conference has become one of the most prominent national events for health care professionals and social service providers to collaborate and share best practices. This year's theme – Coming Together: Building the Path, Shining the Light – highlights Lutheran Services in America's impressive network and relationship building techniques.

I send you my best wishes for a successful conference. While you are visiting Minnesota, I hope you are able to enjoy the many great restaurants, world-class theatres, live music venues, state parks and trails, and museums our beautiful state has to offer.

Sincerely,
