

Brave New World

Anthony Bugg-Levine

Antony Bugg-Levine is the CEO of Nonprofit Finance Fund, a national nonprofit that unlocks the potential of mission-driven organizations through tailored investment and strategic advice, and develops innovative approaches to financing social change. He is the co-author of Impact Investing: Transforming How We Make Money While Making a Difference. While Managing Director at the Rockefeller Foundation, he designed the Foundation's Impact Investing initiative, and is founding board chair of the Global Impact Investing Network. A former consultant with McKinsey & Co., he teaches at Columbia Business School.

Christine Cauffield

Christine Cauffield is CEO of Lutheran Services Florida Health Systems and oversees LSF's Substance Abuse and Mental Health Managing Entity. Cauffield was previously President of Cauffield & Associates Consulting, and has a long track record of serving in leadership positions of organizations that help individuals who have mental health and/or co-occurring disorders. Christine holds a Doctor of Psychology in Clinical Psychology and completed her Internship and Post-Doctoral Residency at Harvard Medical School. She serves on numerous boards and is a frequent conference keynote speaker.

Larry McReynolds

Larry McReynolds is president of NYU Lutheran Family Health Centers; under his leadership, LFHC has become a NCQA recognized level 3 Patient Centered Medical Home for 114,000 individuals with 750,000+ annual patient visits in underserved communities across New York City. McReynolds is responsible for leading a broad continuum of culturally competent preventive, primary and specialty medical care, dentistry, HIV/AIDS services, behavioral health and community-based services in one of New York's most ethnically diverse communities. Mr. McReynolds holds a bachelor's degree from Wheaton College and a master's degree from Washington University.

Todd Reckling

Todd Reckling is Vice President of Children, Family and Community Services at Lutheran Family Services of Nebraska. Prior to LFS, Reckling was Director of the Division of Children and Family Services of the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services. He held executive, supervisory and front-line positions at DHHS from 1992 to 2011 advocating safety, permanency and well-being for children, youth and families. Reckling is a graduate of Creighton University and the University of Nebraska at Omaha, where he received his Masters in Public Administration.

