

Gift Planning for the Future

David Fiedler

David Fiedler has been at the national headquarters of the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod (LCMS) since 1995, serving in several different roles during since that time. He is currently the president of the LCMS Foundation, a position he assumed in 2013. In this role, he oversees the Foundation's planned giving on behalf of LCMS members and ministries as well as management of the Foundation's $950 million portfolio. Fiedler started his career with the LCMS in 1995 as a development officer, raising money for LCMS World Mission. Fiedler holds a bachelor's degree in German and Political Science and a master's in Business Administration.

Annette C. Shoemaker

Annette C. Shoemaker is the director of the ELCA Foundation, where she created a national gift planning network and partnership structure to support congregations, agencies and institutions through financial education, mission endowment fund guidance and investment management services. Previously, Shoemaker worked for the Presbyterian Church USA Foundation and spent 20 years in the institutional investment management industry. Shoemaker earned an undergraduate degree in Finance from Miami University and an MBA from The University of Chicago Booth School of Business.

Sponsored by the ELCA Foundation