

The Future of Foundation Philanthropy: Driving change through changing times

John Feather, Ph.D.

John Feather is the Chief Executive Officer of Grantmakers in Aging, the national association of grantmaking foundations that work to improve the lives of older adults. Dr. Feather previously served as Executive Director and CEO of the American Society of Consultant Pharmacists, Director of the AARP Andrus Foundation and held several positions at the State University of New York at Buffalo. Dr. Feather earned his undergraduate degree at the University of Texas at Austin and his master's and doctoral degrees at the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Jennifer Brooks, Ph.D.

Jennifer Brooks is a Senior Program Officer at the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, where she is responsible for implementing a new national early learning portfolio. Dr. Brooks previously served as Director of Economic, Human Services and Workforce at the National Governors Association Center for Best Practices and as Team Leader for Head Start research at the Administration for Children and Families in the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. Dr. Brooks earned a Ph.D. and M.Sc. in Human Development and Family Studies from Penn State University and a M.A. in Public Policy from the University of Chicago.

Stephen B. Fitzgerald

Stephen B. Fitzgerald is the Environmental Social and Governance, Program Director at the Bank of America Charitable Foundation, where he is responsible for the national delivery and strategic oversight of the Community Development Philanthropic Platform and the Connecting Leaders to Learning forum. Previously, Fitzgerald led the Neighborhood Builders Program, the Charitable Foundation's signature program in 43 markets across the company franchise. Fitzgerald earned a B.S. degree in Business Management from the University of Maryland at College Park, School of Business.

Diane Melley

Diane Melley is the Vice President of Global Citizenship Initiatives at the IBM Corporation. Melley has global leadership responsibility over the IBM Impact Grants portfolio focused on Cloud, Analytics, Social and mobile offerings for not-for-profits, schools and government organizations and awards over 500 grants annually. Melley is also responsible for IBM's Humanitarian Disaster Response efforts worldwide and the Smarter Safety Net for Social Services grants. Melley is a faculty member of the Institute for Corporate Social Responsibility at Johns Hopkins University and earned a bachelor's degree in Computer Science from La Salle University.

Michael Shaw

Michael Shaw is a Program Officer in the Human Services Program at The Kresge Foundation. Shaw's responsibilities include developing and refining grantmaking strategies, inviting and reviewing funding proposals and monitoring the outcomes of Kresge-supported efforts. Previously, Shaw served as Director of Philanthropic and Business Development and Innovation at the Green & Healthy Homes Initiative and served as a member of the civic-investments portfolio at the Annie E. Casey Foundation. Shaw earned his master's and bachelor's degrees in Social Work from Syracuse University.

Sponsored by the ELCA Foundation

